Disclaimer: The questions in the above tool are based on the legal requirements for a citizenship by grant application. The result is only a general indicator to give you some idea of your ability to be eligible for citizenship by grant. The questions do not form part of the formal assessment process.

A formal assessment of your ability to meet each relevant requirement will be carried out by the Department of Internal Affairs, should you apply for citizenship. The result should not be read as legal advice. For more detailed information, please read the rest of the guide notes. For information about our fees and refunds, see page 9 of the guide notes.

How to fill in the application form

If you are an adult applicant (aged 16 years and older), please fill in this form and use the guide notes to help you.

How should I answer these questions?

Tell the truth

The Minister of Internal Affairs will consider the information you give in the application form. It is very important that you answer all questions truthfully. If you do not, you may be denied or lose your New Zealand citizenship, face criminal charges, or both.

Answer all questions

You must answer every question and provide as much information as you can. If you need more space to answer a question, please use another piece of paper. If you don't answer a question, your application may take longer to process because we will need to contact you and we may have to send the form back to you so that you can complete it.

What if I don't know the answer?

If you do not know the answer to a question, use this guide to help you. If you can't find the answer in the guide, contact us and we will try to help you find the information you need.

What if I need to tell you something that you have not asked me about?

If there is anything you think we should know about you, it is important that you tell us. You can tell us this information in Q.30 on the adult form, or you can use another piece of paper and attach it to your application.

What if I don't have all of the documents you are asking for?

You must give us all the original documents asked for in the application form. If you don't give us a document we need, the processing of your application will not start until you do.

If you don't have some of the original documents you need, you will have to get them from the country you come from before you apply for New Zealand citizenship. You can contact your local embassy or ask a relative in that country for help. We cannot accept photocopies, or process your application without these documents for any reason.

If you have been granted refugee status by Immigration New Zealand and do not have all the documents you need, please contact us.

What if I don't meet all the requirements for citizenship?

Exceptional circumstances and public interest

You might be able to get citizenship even if you don't meet some of the requirements if you have exceptional circumstances of a humanitarian or other nature that mean it will be in the public interest for you to be granted citizenship. You will need to show that there would be an advantage or benefit for New Zealand from you becoming a citizen because of your exceptional circumstances. It is very difficult to get New Zealand citizenship if you do not meet the normal requirements. If you think your situation is exceptional, contact the Citizenship Office.

Waivers of other requirements

The Minister of Internal Affairs can sometimes reduce or waive a requirement if you do not meet it.

Presence in New Zealand

If you do not meet the presence requirement, you may still be able to get citizenship if you have been here for at least 450 days in the last 20 months. You will have to prove you have exceptional circumstances that justify a reduction in the presence requirement.

English

You may still be able to get citizenship if you can prove you would find learning English too hard because of a variety of reasons, including a lack of education, having a disability or illness.

If you want more information about these options please contact us.

8 Print the name(s) of your partner(s) and the date(s) of your marriage(s)/civil union(s) in the table provided.

Other names

9 We need to know all the names you have ever used during your life, so we can verify your identity.

If you have ever used any other names, tick 'yes' and print them in the box.

If you have officially changed your name at any time, you will need to provide us with proof of this name change. If the other names you use are not on any official documents, you must list them on the form, but you don't need to provide proof of them.

10-11 Parent's details

Print both parents' first and middle names, surnames and citizenships in the boxes. Parent means a birth or legal adopted mother or father. Don't include step-parents or guardians.

12 Your residential address

Print the address where you are currently living.

If you don't plan to live in New Zealand once you have citizenship, you must intend to enter into, or continue in, ONE of the following:

- Crown service under the New Zealand Government;
- Service under an international organisation of which the New Zealand Government is a member, or
- Service in the employment of a person, company, society or other body of persons resident or established in New Zealand.

Please note that your application may not be completed while you are away from New Zealand.

15 Is English your first language?

If you grew up in an English-speaking country, tick 'yes' and go to Q.17.

If you did not grow up in an English-speaking country, tick 'no' and go to Q.16.

16 Conversational English

If you can speak English in everyday situations, such as talking to your doctor or dealing with your bank, tick 'yes'.

You will need to prove you can speak English in everyday situations. If you lodge your application in person, you do not need to provide documented proof that you can speak English. In most cases you will need to show us you have tried to learn English. The amount of time, cost or difficulty is not a good reason to not learn English.

If you can't speak English in everyday situations, your application may not be approved, unless you would suffer undue hardship if required to learn sufficient English, for reasons such as your age, level of education, or disability or illness.

17-26 Everyone needs to answer all of these questions so we can confirm that you are of good character.

Being of good character is a requirement of citizenship. To determine whether you are of good character, we will do background checks with the New Zealand Police and other agencies in New Zealand and overseas. You may also be asked to provide us with an overseas police clearance.

If you have had 100 or more demerit points in the last 2 years and/or you have had a significant history of infringements and fines, this may affect the outcome of your application.

A 'yes' answer to any of these questions does not automatically disqualify you from getting New Zealand citizenship. However, if you provide false or misleading information, or withhold relevant information, you may be denied/lose New Zealand citizenship, or face criminal charges, or both.

You're said to have no criminal record (criminal conviction history) if all of the following are true. You have:

- had no convictions within the last 7 years
- never been sentenced to a custodial sentence (such as prison, corrective training or borstal)
- never been convicted of a sexual offence ('specified offence')
- fully paid any fine, compensation, reparation or costs ordered by the court in a criminal case
- never been banned from driving until further notice (indefinite disqualification)

- never been held in hospital by the court in a criminal case instead of being sentenced, due to your mental condition.

If you are eligible under the Clean Slate Act, you can answer 'no' to any question about your criminal record. If you are uncertain whether you are able to conceal your record, please contact the Ministry of Justice online at www.justice.govt.nz/services or call them on (+64 4) 918 88 00 for an information pamphlet.

17 Previous convictions

Tick 'yes' if you have been convicted or found guilty of an offence against the law in New Zealand or any other country. Include convictions even if you have paid fines or served sentences for them. You must include traffic convictions when answering this question.

If you tick 'yes' you will need to include a letter of explanation and attach it to your application. We need to know what happened, what sentence you received, what country it happened in, and the date you were convicted.

Please note that, except in very rare circumstances, you will be disqualified from meeting the character requirement if:

1. You have been in prison for five years or more or
2. You have been sentenced to an indefinite term of imprisonment capable of running for five years or more or

Tick 'yes' if you have paid this money back, or are still paying the money back. You will need to give us proof of your payment plan, or a letter from the agency saying you have repaid the debt in full.

Tick 'no' if you have not paid any money back.

Tick 'yes' if you have ever committed a war crime or a crime against humanity.

If you tick 'yes' you will need to include a letter of explanation. We need to know what happened, who was involved, where it happened and what the outcome was.

27 Ceremonies

The ceremony is an important part of becoming a citizen. During the ceremony you will be formally welcomed – usually by the mayor of your local area, or another official person.

Almost all adults must attend a public ceremony to get citizenship. During the ceremony you will read aloud a statement. The statement says you will be loyal to New Zealand. You have a choice of two statements – either an oath or affirmation.

Oath

The oath of allegiance is religious, taken on a holy book of your choice and includes the words 'so help me God'.

Affirmation

The affirmation of allegiance is non-religious and does NOT include the words 'so help me God'.

Tick the declaration you want to make.

If you are approved for the grant of citizenship you will be sent to the next available ceremony being held in your local area. Most of the time you will be able to go to a ceremony within four months of being approved, but sometimes it can be longer.

Oath and Affirmation Statements

Oath of allegiance

"I (say your name) swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the Second, Queen of New Zealand, her heirs and successors according to law, and that I will faithfully observe the laws of New Zealand and fulfil my duties as a New Zealand citizen. So help me God."

Affirmation of allegiance

"I (say your name) affirm that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the Second, Queen of New Zealand, her heirs and successors according to law, and that I will faithfully observe the laws of New Zealand and fulfil my duties as a New Zealand citizen".
